BEST Revised Work Study Practices COMMUNICATION Rubrics

Based on a 2021 Alignment Review Using the Essential Skills and Dispositions Developmental Framework for Communication

Recommended Revisions to the NH 2019 version include:

1. Replace the original narrative in far-left column with a focus question to help explain how each criterion addresses different aspects of communication.

2. Revise rubric to explicitly include all communication modes: speaking/presenting, listening, responding, and writing.

3. Almost every rubric bullet is new to increase alignment with the Essential Skills and Dispositions Framework - alignment coding is in red for each corresponding criterion: 1=Beginner to 4=Emerging Expert with letters (a-b-c-etc.) for each descriptor in the Framework at that performance level.

4. Rubric indicators are now written as “I can/I can also ...” statements.

5. A single indicator bullet is used at each performance level.

6. All performance levels indicators are stated in the positive – describing how a student might typically demonstrate performance at each performance level.

7. Scoring numbers for each level are replaced with performance level descriptors to generally describe how learning typically develops over time: Emerging - Developing - Applying – Extending.

8. Eliminate indicators that simply repeated the same description at the same grade span with different degrees of support and those stated in the negative (e.g., “not yet able”).

9. Used phrases “with prompting” (direct interventions and reminders) versus “with guidance” (e.g., conferencing, self-assessment tools) consistent with other BEST rubrics.

---

10. Rubric descriptors were reviewed to ensure expectations are compatible with wording in other BEST rubrics (Self-Direction, Collaboration, Creativity) at the same grade spans.

11. The phrase “cultural norms” is used in the Essential Skills and Dispositions Framework at the Emergent Expert level of Establishing Meaning. While there are potentially many cultural norms that can influence how meaning might be interpreted, the following are suggested as a starting point for interpreting implicit meanings of communication: symbolism, values/beliefs, customs, language use, social status, emotional display, and ways of behaving that might be appropriate in one context or culture, but not appropriate in another.

12. The Essential Skills and Dispositions Framework does not address use of multimedia communication tools. An appropriate criterion to include the use of digital tools is suggested under the Delivery and Expression criterion (e.g., using a tool to organize and display information or emphasize tone or meaning).

13. Self-Awareness and Reflection is primarily intended for self-assessment and conferencing activities.
Alignment with the Essential Skills and Dispositions Developmental Framework

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Essential Skills and Dispositions Developmental Framework Criteria</th>
<th>Communication Focus Questions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Self-Awareness</td>
<td>Reflecting on strengths and challenges with regard to conveying and interpreting meaning. Understanding how communication choices affect others.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Context &amp; Message</td>
<td>Analyzing context as the basis for interpreting and planning messages, content, and framing that enhance clarity and effect.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Establishing Meaning</td>
<td>Evaluating sources, using examples, and choosing effective formats. Receiving information and perspectives drawing on one’s own experience and knowledge to effectively interpret.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Delivery &amp; Expression</td>
<td>Choosing the best mode for purpose, conveying clearly, and affecting audience through style. Using and interpreting tone, emphasis, or verbal or nonverbal signals as a means of expression.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monitoring &amp; Adapting</td>
<td>Initiating and maintaining engagement, regulating emotional response, and adjusting approach or perspective to enhance meaning.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

How am I using my past learning and my strengths to clearly communicate or interpret meaning when I listen, respond, speak, or write?

How do I use my knowledge of language and context to interpret a message or to help me plan my communications?

How do I decide which sources, examples, or format to use when I’m developing and sharing ideas and interpreting ideas of others?

How do tone, emphasis, and nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) help to convey or interpret a message and engage others?

How do I use verbal/nonverbal feedback to keep my audience engaged, monitor my emotional responses, and make changes when needed?
How am I using my past learning and my strengths to clearly communicate or interpret meaning when I listen, respond, speak, or write?

How do I use my knowledge of language and context to interpret a message or to help me plan my communications?

How do I decide which sources, examples, or format to use when I'm developing and sharing ideas and interpreting ideas of others?

How do tone, emphasis, and nonverbal cues help to convey or interpret a message and engage others?

How do I use verbal/nonverbal feedback to keep my audience engaged, monitor my emotional responses, and make changes when needed?

---

Self-awareness & Reflection

- How do I use examples of my work to show how my tone, delivery, or expression changes in different situations: informal, formal, audience.

- I can describe what I do well when I listen, speak, or write and identify ways I'd like to improve (with guidance, such as a self-reflection checklist).

Context & Message

- I can interpret the main message of oral and written communications modeled by others (with guidance).

- I can also use familiar sources and personal examples to describe what I know about a topic.

Establishing Meaning

- I can use a source provided by others to support my message (with guidance).

- I can also use different tones and non-verbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals) to figure out what helps to make my meaning clear.

Delivery & Expression

- I can convey a message using basic speaking or writing conventions.

- I can also convey a message using different tones and non-verbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals) to figure out what helps to make my meaning clear.

Monitoring & Adapting

- I can describe how I was feeling when I was listening, speaking, or responding (with prompting).

- I can also work with others to figure out different ways to keep the audience involved.

---

New Hampshire Learning Initiative and JFF, December, 2021, Dr. Karin Hess, Educational Research in Action, LLC. This resource is a product of the Building Essential Skills Today (BEST) Research-Practice Partnership. For more information, visit best-future.org. Unless noted otherwise, all materials in this toolkit are copyrighted under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. Permission for use requires full citation.
How am I using my past learning and my strengths to clearly communicate or interpret meaning when I listen, respond, speak, or write?

How do I use my knowledge of language and context to interpret a message or to help me plan my communications?

How do I decide which sources, examples, or format to use when I'm developing and sharing ideas and interpreting ideas of others?

How do tone, emphasis, and nonverbal cues help to convey or interpret a message and engage others?

How do I use verbal/nonverbal feedback to keep my audience engaged, monitor my emotional responses, and make changes when needed?

Self-awareness & Reflection

Context & Message

Establishing Meaning

Delivery & Expression

Monitoring & Adapting

I can...

use specific examples to describe how tone, delivery, or expression change in different situations: context, formal, informal, audience (with guidance).

I can...

answer questions and communicate informal messages using descriptive and content-specific vocabulary (with prompting).

I can...

explain whether the meaning of a message is/is not supported by a specific source or example (with guidance).

I can...

describe the tone or non-verbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) used by others and explain why they were used.

I can...

use feedback from others to reflect on my communication strengths and set goals for improvement (with guidance).

I can also...

explain how I use my tone and verbal/non-verbal expression to make my message clear and interesting when I respond, speak, or write.

I can also...

show my understanding of content using descriptive and content-specific vocabulary to communicate formal written and oral messages.

I can also...

select relevant sources and personal examples to describe what I know about a topic (With guidance)

I can also...

use tone and nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) to support my meaning in formal and informal situations.

I can also...

use feedback from others to improve the clarity of formal written and oral communications (with guidance, such as peer conferencing) use feedback to select sources and examples that will make the meaning of my message clearer (with guidance, such as peer-conferencing).

plan and give a presentation using tone and nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) to support my meaning.

I can also...

use specific examples to describe how tone, delivery, or expression change in different situations: context, formal, informal, audience (with guidance).

I can also...

use language skills that show my understanding of the content to create or respond to informal and formal communications.

I can also...

explain how the sources and examples used in a message help to interpret the intended meaning.

I can also...

explain how I wanted the audience to react to my use of tone or non-verbal cues and describe what actually happened (with guidance, such as a self-checklist).

I can also...

use suggestions from others to make my speaking, writing, or responding clearer and more interesting (with guidance).

I can also...

describe why I tried a new strategy for speaking, writing, or responding and how others reacted (e.g., non-verbal cues, follow-up questions).

I can also...

identify strategies I've used to increase my participation and be more actively engaged when listening and responding (with guidance, such as conferencing).

I can also...

set a goal for improving my speaking, writing, or active listening, using reflections on my past successes and challenges.

New Hampshire Learning Initiative and JFF, December, 2021, Dr. Karin Hess, Educational Research in Action, LLC. This resource is a product of the Building Essential Skills Today (BEST) Research-Practice Partnership. For more information, visit best-future.org. Unless noted otherwise, all materials in this toolkit are copyrighted under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. Permission for use requires full citation.
Self-awareness & Reflection

How am I using my past learning and my strengths to clearly communicate or interpret meaning when I listen, respond, speak, or write?

- I can...
  - use specific examples to describe how tone, delivery, or expression affected or influenced me in different situations: context, formal, informal, audience, cultural (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - explain how I use tone, delivery, or expression to affect or influence my audience in different situations: context, formal, informal, cultural.

- I can also...
  - analyze how my communication strengths and challenges relate to purpose, planning, familiarity with context, or my chosen approach (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - draw upon my past experience to identify which forms of communication best complement my personal preferences and strengths.

Context & Message

How do I use my knowledge of language and context to interpret a message or to help me plan my communications?

- I can...
  - identify similarities and differences in language use, framing, and conventions applied across different venues and forms of communication (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - show my understanding of context using descriptive, technical, and content-specific language to communicate or interpret formal and informal messages.

- I can also...
  - choose language and an approach that matches purpose, audience, and formality of context to plan and deliver communications.

Establishing Meaning

How do I decide which sources, examples, or format to use when I'm developing and sharing ideas and interpreting ideas of others?

- I can...
  - analyze how the sources and examples used in a communication help to interpret explicit and implicit meanings (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - evaluate the relevance and quality of potential sources and examples for specific purposes, audiences, and contexts.

- I can also...
  - choose an effective format and supporting sources/examples to enhance explicit and implicit meanings for a specific audience.

- I can also...
  - tailor the format and supporting sources/examples to engage different audience member perspectives.

Delivery & Expression

How do tone, emphasis, and nonverbal cues help to convey or interpret a message and engage others?

- I can...
  - express ideas using tone or nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) to emphasize meaning.

- I can also...
  - analyze how effectively others use tone, nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) or digital tools to emphasize meaning (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - plan and deliver presentations integrating tone, nonverbal cues, and digital tools (e.g., auditory, visual) to emphasize meaning and engage the audience.

- I can also...
  - evaluate the effectiveness of my use tone, nonverbal cues, or digital tools (e.g., auditory, visual) to emphasize meaning and engage the audience (with guidance, such as self-assessment checklist).

Monitoring & Adapting

How do I use verbal/nonverbal feedback to keep my audience engaged, monitor my emotional responses, and make changes when needed?

- I can...
  - use suggestions from others to make my speaking, writing, or responding more engaging and inclusive of differing viewpoints (with guidance).

- I can also...
  - identify and evaluate strategies I’ve used to increase my participation and be more actively engaged when speaking and responding.

- I can also...
  - analyze my past successes and challenges when speaking, writing, or responding and set a goal for improvement using reflections on my past work (with guidance, such as self-assessment checklist).

- I can also...
  - describe how my personal speaking and writing styles and techniques have been modified over time to improve my message and engage my audience.

---

New Hampshire Learning Initiative and JFF, December, 2021, Dr. Karin Hess, Educational Research in Action, LLC. This resource is a product of the Building Essential Skills Today (BEST) Research-Practice Partnership. For more information, visit best-future.org. Unless noted otherwise, all materials in this toolkit are copyrighted under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. Permission for use requires full citation.
Self-awareness & Reflection

How am I using my past learning and my strengths to clearly communicate or interpret meaning when I listen, respond, speak, or write?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I can...</th>
<th>I can also...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>identify how strategies used or observed in prior speaking and writing experiences help to create different modes of communication.</td>
<td>analyze how my communication strengths and challenges relate to purpose, planning, familiarity with context, or my chosen approach (with guidance, such as peer feedback or conferencing).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>use analyses of past communications to plan more effective approaches related to different audiences or communication modes</td>
<td>analyze context-based language and approaches used by others for different purposes/audiences and interpret their messages (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>identify communication skills that best complement my personal preferences and strengths and apply them to new tasks.</td>
<td>choose language and an approach that matches purpose, audience, cultural norms, and formality of context to plan and deliver communications.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Context & Message

How do I use my knowledge of language and context to interpret a message or to help me plan my communications?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I can...</th>
<th>I can also...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>show my understanding of context using descriptive, technical, and content-specific language to communicate or interpret formal and informal messages.</td>
<td>analyze context-based language and approaches used by others for different purposes/audiences and interpret their messages (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>choose language and an approach that matches purpose, audience, cultural norms, and formality of context to plan and deliver communications.</td>
<td>choose an effective format and supporting sources/examples to elicit a desired response from the intended audience.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>integrate prior learning and context-based language to create an interpretive lens for formal and informal communications.</td>
<td>tailor the format and supporting sources/examples to enhance clarity and engage different audience member perspectives or raise awareness of cultural norms.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Establishing Meaning

How do I decide which sources, examples, or format to use when I’m developing and sharing ideas and interpreting ideas of others?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I can...</th>
<th>I can also...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>evaluate the relevance and quality of potential sources and examples for specific purposes, audiences, and contexts.</td>
<td>analyze how the sources and examples used in a communication help to interpret implicit meanings, varying perspectives, or cultural norms (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>plan and deliver presentations integrating tone with the use of nonverbal cues and digital tools to emphasize meaning and maintain audience engagement.</td>
<td>plan and deliver presentations integrating tone with the use of nonverbal cues and digital tools to emphasize meaning and maintain audience engagement.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>evaluate the effectiveness of my use tone, nonverbal cues, or digital tools to emphasize meaning and fluidly deliver a message (with guidance, such as self-assessment checklist).</td>
<td>evaluate the effectiveness of my use tone, nonverbal cues, or digital tools to emphasize meaning and fluidly deliver a message (with guidance, such as self-assessment checklist).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Delivery & Expression

How do tone, emphasis, and nonverbal cues help to convey or interpret a message and engage others?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I can...</th>
<th>I can also...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>analyze how effectively others use tone and nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) to emphasize meaning and engage an audience (with guidance).</td>
<td>speak, write, or perform expressively applying my understanding of different purposes and communication tools and modes.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>analyze how well others use tone and nonverbal cues (e.g., gestures, props, visuals, auditory) to emphasize meaning and engage an audience (with guidance).</td>
<td>analyze my past successes and challenges when speaking, writing, or responding and set a goal for improvement using reflections on my past work (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>describe how my personal speaking and writing styles and techniques have been modified over time to improve my message and engage my audience.</td>
<td>use suggestions from others to make my speaking, writing, or responding more engaging and inclusive of differing viewpoints (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Monitoring & Adapting

How do I use verbal/nonverbal feedback to keep my audience engaged, monitor my emotional responses, and make changes when needed?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I can...</th>
<th>I can also...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>use analyses of past communications to plan more effective approaches related to different audiences or communication modes</td>
<td>identify and evaluate strategies I’ve used to increase my participation and be more actively engaged when speaking and responding.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>analyze context-based language and approaches used by others for different purposes/audiences and interpret their messages (with guidance).</td>
<td>analyze my past successes and challenges when speaking, writing, or responding and set a goal for improvement using reflections on my past work (with guidance, such as self-assessment checklist).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>evaluate the relevance and quality of potential sources and examples for specific purposes, audiences, and contexts.</td>
<td>use suggestions from others to make my speaking, writing, or responding more engaging and inclusive of differing viewpoints (with guidance).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

New Hampshire Learning Initiative and JFF, December, 2021, Dr. Karin Hess, Educational Research in Action, LLC. This resource is a product of the Building Essential Skills Today (BEST) Research-Practice Partnership. For more information, visit best-future.org. Unless noted otherwise, all materials in this toolkit are copyrighted under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. Permission for use requires full citation.